To our Valued Customers and Vendors,

Polymer Industries is pleased to announce the acquisition of The Nytef Group. The Nytef Group is a manufacturer of engineering plastics and high performance materials in a wide variety of rod, plate and tubular bar sizes. In addition they offer over 30 years of experience in the custom extrusion of application-specific and proprietary resins to meet even the most demanding performance requirements. The Nytef Group includes Nytef Plastics, Ltd, a manufacturing facility located in Bensalem, PA two distribution and stocking warehouses located in Elk Grove Village, IL and Whittier, CA and Transparent Protection Systems, Inc., a manufacturer of hurricane protection panels, also located in Bensalem, PA. This acquisition will bring together two companies with a combined 70 plus years of experience in the plastics distribution and manufacturing industry into one company that will take service and expertise to a higher level and will enable the company to access new markets domestically and internationally.

Polymer Industries has been in business for 38 years and has established a solid reputation for providing excellent customer service and quality product. The company has been seeking to substantially expand its business in the mechanicals market and this acquisition marks the continuation of Polymer's growth strategy. Polymer is very fortunate to retain the experience and expertise of Craig Hampton as Vice President and General Manager, and The Nytef Group's manufacturing and sales team to ensure a seamless transition from two diverse manufacturing companies to one unified global entity. The synergies between these two companies will bring real benefits to our valued customers, vendors and employees and we look forward to demonstrating our commitment to the industry in the coming months and years.
